FROM OREGON .- The U. S. Ship Falmouth mived yesterday, seven days from Columbia nver. Gov. Gaines, Gen. Hamilton, (Secretary of the Territory,) and Judge Strong, with their families, had left Astoria for Oregon City before the Falmouth sailed. The officers of the Falouth with whom we conversed are much pleased with their visit to Oregon, and speak in exalted terms of that " land of tall trees." They hink the Columbia river will, at no distant day, command her full share of the commerce of the Pacific. Astoria is going ahead prosperously; many new buildings are being erected, and many new settlers are daily increasing its population.
The steamer Columbia makes two trips weekbetween Astoria, Vancouver, Portland, and regon City, and the arrivals of square rigged

A gentlemanly, skilful and attentive pilot, Mr. White, formerly of the port of New York, is stationed at the mouth of the river; and it is sufficient praise to say that no accident has occurred to vessels entering that river since he entered on his duties. Before his time all vessels entered the river by the "North Channel," close to Cape Disappointment, and if they proceeded up the river, it became necessary for them to cross over to the other side above "Sand Island" which was often difficult and dangerous. Now, by the industry and perseverence of Mr. White, he has discovered a south channel leading directly from Point Adams to Asteria, having fourteen feet, at low water, on the bar.

Astoria was selected by the discerning Hudon's Bay Company, as the connecting link between the ocean and river navigation, and their adament is likely to be confirmed. This place now the terminus of the line of mail steamers, one of which arrives there monthly, introducing rom a hundred to two hundred passengers each
